

COFFEE WITH A SIGNATURE

Our approach to coffee

At Mint, we see coffee as a living product, one that evolves over time and responds to every stage of its journey. That is why we approach each coffee individually, with respect for its origin, the farmer and the variety. Our aim is not to mask its character, but to bring it out and present it in its purest form.

Roasted right here

We roast and pack our coffee directly at Mint Pradiareñ, where the whole journey is a natural part of the space and everyday life. From selecting green beans to the final roast, everything happens right in front of our guests. The aroma of freshly roasted beans, the sound of the roaster and the buzz around each new delivery all add to the experience and conversations over coffee simply belong here.

Freshness comes first

We roast regularly to preserve freshness, aroma and character in every batch. Every detail matters, from precise roast timing to the final profile in the cup.

Espresso and alternative brewing

We seek out different varieties and work with growers whose approach to farming and people aligns with our ethical values. We favour small farms where coffee can still be hand-picked, carefully handled and closely inspected, with attention reflected in every single bean.

Coffee is a lifestyle

We like to stay curious and keep trying new things, which is why you'll find coffees for both espresso and filter at Mint. From smooth chocolate and nutty notes to brighter, fruitier profiles. We also bring you small-batch releases from time to time, because life is all about change. Some mornings smell like oranges or peaches, others like dates, and some simply smell like coffee.

Our coffee, at home with you

At Mint, you can also pick up a bag of our freshly roasted beans to enjoy at home. Choose your favourite or let us help you find the right one. For us, roasting is an everyday craft you can see, smell and taste. That is exactly how we approach it. Thank you for being part of our story.
